

Tansy Davies

Picking Raspberries At Eagle's Nest Lake III

for female voice and piano

a setting of a poem by Norbert Hirschhorn

Preview File Only

Picking Raspberries At Eagle's Nest Lake

by Norbert Hirschhorn

Low, venous, swollen :
angels with lanterns, they beckon,
one by one along the low cloisters,
tiny crowns fitted to the tongue,
sweetness exploding.

Deep in the thicket,
I see you only when
our fingers touch.
Our laughter surprises the woods.
We hold hands,

home in the yellow glow
to taste the last drops of light Later, under Hercules, the Bears, there ! a satellite needles the dark :
high, silent, cold.

Preview File Only

Picking Raspberries At Eagle's Nest Lake III

Tansy Davies

♩ = 69 volatile

mf

secco

1 3 3 3 3

fff

pp

Voice

Pianoforte

Low, ven - ous, swo - llen

6

p mf

3

Vce.

Pno.

fff

sub. pp

fff

pp

an - gels with lan - terns, they be - ckon,

10

mp

f

Vce.

Pno.

fff

p

pp

one by one a - long the

Vce. mf [3] p [3] mp ff

low cloisters, ti - ny crowns fi - tted to the tongue,

Pno. p ff

Vce. mp f

swee - t ness ex -

Pno. fff pp mp

♩ = 63 cantabile

Vce. ♩ = 69

plo - ding

Pno. pp fff ff sub.pp