Programme Note

Biscuits, Beer & Bulbs is a movement in three continuous sections inspired by the three most prominent industries in Reading in the 19th and 20th centuries. Biscuits refers to Huntley and Palmers, beer to Simonds' Brewery, and bulbs to Sutton Seeds. The work makes use of fragments of recorded text from individuals who worked for the various companies from which motifs have been devised to match the rhythmic patterns and melodic contours of their speech. Throughout the piece the orchestra imitates and develops this material – sometimes extensively, sometime only momentarily. Whilst there is a loose narrative for each industry, the piece develops the material derived from the spoken word fragments independent of their original context. Often this results in rather disjointed and fragmented musical structure, as well as a certain musical eclecticism.

All these industries have now amalgated with other companies or moved away from Reading, so whilst this work is a celebration of the town and its industrial achievements, it is also a nostalgic nod to a time in which local industries dominated rather than the corporate giants we see today. This nostalgic feel presents itself in various ways throughout the piece in moments of pastiche including a waltz and a jig.

This work was commissioned by the Aldworth Philharmonic Orchestra in 2013 as the prize from their annual young composers' competition. It was first performed at Reading Town Hall in January 2014 conducted by Andrew Taylor. The piece last almost 12 minutes.

This piece would not have been possible without the support of Brendan Carr at Reading Museum, who helped source the material for the first two sections, and Darren Rowe and Gerry Westall from Sutton Seeds who provided the material for the final section. Copyright for the original audio material remains in the hands of Reading Museum and Sutton Seeds. For more information please contact the composer at michaelbetteridge@hotmail.com.

Performance Instructions

There is an audio track to be performed alongside the orchestra. Whilst this is not entirely compulsory, it is encouraged by the composer in order for the work to be heard at its full potential. The conductor is expected to play from a click track which has 2 bars tacet before the orchestra are expected to start. The audio track is in a stereo set-up.

"If you've ever been down to the West Country by train, then more than likely you passed the Sutton's place. Apart from a few weeks in summer I imagine it must look pretty ordinary to most people. A few chaps pottering about, but nothing you call spectacular. Yet that bit of land probably affects thousands, maybe even millions, of acres all over the world."
