

. the performer should simply respond to the beauty image, choosing a series of gestures to highlight aspects of light and shade, lines and expanded spaces.

. this score should be interpreted in a space where the sounds of the surrounding area are audible.

. matters of duration are left to the performer.